Lori,

The information we have shared with the PCI Group on this subject during the allocation process is the same information that we shared with EPA and DOJ. Specifically, we have been unable to locate any documents setting forth the transaction by which Dillingham purchased Albina and, for that reason, we do not know the terms of that transaction.

Given DIL Trust's limited access to historical information about Dillingham's and Albina's operations over twenty-five years ago, and in order to conserve DIL Trust's funds, and in light of settlement discussions with the PCI Group and EPA, DIL Trust has not participated fully in advanced stages of the PCI Group's information gathering process. As a consequence, we do not have access to all of the information generated by other PCI Group members during this process, so it is possible that a PCI Group member has uncovered information to which we are not privy. If there is a specific document or specific information with which you are familiar, please provide it so we can follow up.

Thanks,
Kira

Hello, Kirk. I've been told that information regarding the purchase and/or merger of Albina and Dillingham has been generated during the allocation process. Our 104(e) information request asked for such information and if additional information has been found, DIL Trust should supplement its response with this new information. As you know, this information is relevant to ongoing discussions about insurance recovery.
